Don't miss this exclusive event where teams are issued $500,000 to buy mock stock in 30 fictitious companies. Once the opening bell rings, the market opens and every 80 seconds is a new trading day!

Teams track the performance of their stocks and their standings with information provided on three massive screens. Hot tips and press releases are published throughout the evening and help the teams identify trends based on current events. Teams make trades by attracting the attention of a floor trader, who is equipped with a tablet device that enters your team's orders instantly.

Due to the volatile market, and the game's frantic pace, teams are pushed to their limit as they compete to have the largest portfolio by the end of trading! After the first 30 days of trading, a much needed break is taken, and then it is a race to the finish.
